

Arroyo lauds US, other allies at Leyte Landing rites

By Benito O. Santos

MANILA (Inquirer) — President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo lauded the United States and other allies for their role in the Leyte Landing rites, marking the 65th anniversary of the liberation of the Philippines from Japanese occupation.

Arroyo, who was in the Philippines for the first time since her inauguration, said the Leyte Landing rites were a testament to the courage and sacrifice of the Filipino people and their allies.

She also praised the US and other allies for their support and assistance in the Philippines, particularly in the areas of economic development and social justice.

Abstract—The purpose of this study was to determine the effect of a 12-week training program on the heart rate (HR) and energy expenditure (EE) of sedentary, middle-aged women. The subjects were 12 women, 40 to 50 years of age, who were sedentary and had no cardiovascular or other medical problems. They were randomly assigned to either a control group or a training group. The control group continued with their sedentary lifestyle, while the training group participated in a 12-week program of aerobic exercise. The HR and EE were measured at rest and during a submaximal exercise test at baseline and at the end of the 12-week program. The results showed that the training group had a significant decrease in HR and an increase in EE compared to the control group. These findings suggest that a 12-week training program can improve cardiovascular fitness and increase energy expenditure in sedentary, middle-aged women.

Silent witness

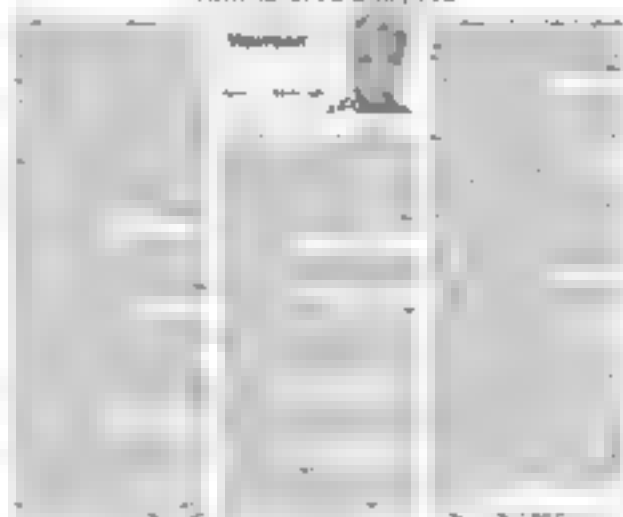

I have been thinking a lot lately about the silent witness. It is a witness that is not heard, not seen, not felt. It is a witness that is not acknowledged, not recognized, not valued. It is a witness that is not given a voice, not given a chance to be heard. It is a witness that is not given a chance to be seen, not given a chance to be felt, not given a chance to be acknowledged, not given a chance to be recognized, not given a chance to be valued. THE POLITICAL landscape in the United States is a complex one, with many different voices and perspectives. The current administration has been criticized for its handling of the economy and the environment. However, it has also been praised for its efforts to address the challenges of the 21st century. The political process is a delicate balance of power and influence, and it is essential that we remain engaged and informed.

RE: "The Economic Crisis and the Role of the Financial System," by Paul Volcker, Nov. 9, 2008.

Mr. Volcker, your article is a masterpiece of clarity and insight. It is a shame that the rest of the world is not paying attention to the warnings you are giving us. The financial system is the root cause of the poverty that is plaguing the world. The elite control the system and they are using it to enrich themselves at the expense of the rest of the world. The system is rigged and it is time to fix it. The world is in a state of crisis and we need to take action now. The financial system is the root cause of the poverty that is plaguing the world. Pinatubo house settlers told: Stay, but pay

MANILA — House settlers of the Pinatubo volcano evacuation zone are being told to stay in their homes, but they must pay for the cost of the evacuation zone's maintenance.

The Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) announced that the evacuation zone's maintenance cost will be shared by the government and the settlers. The government will cover 50 percent of the cost, while the settlers will cover the remaining 50 percent.

The DSWD said that the evacuation zone's maintenance cost is estimated at P100 million per year. The government will cover P50 million, while the settlers will cover the remaining P50 million.

Diesel, kerosene prices raised

NEW oil players Shell Petroleum Corp., Basmaco Petroleum Corp. and Global Petroleum Philippines Inc. yesterday raised their diesel and kerosene prices by 35 centimes a liter following the hike of their other energy products which peaked prices Tuesday.

Oil refiners Orinac Corp. and Philippine Shell Petroleum Corp. have two synchronized price adjustments as of today type.

World oil prices of the imported petroleum gas by oil companies, a Philippine gas price. Total Philippines Corp. also announced Tuesday the price hike was prompted by escalating prices of oil in the international market.

As of Oct. 19 the price of diesel based on the Mean of Three Singapore (MOT3) benchmark for refined petroleum products raised to 357% a barrel from the September average of 334.20 a barrel.

The price of MOT3-based unleaded gasoline likewise surged to 354.73 a barrel from last month's average of only 349.04 a barrel.

The benchmark diesel crude, which oil refiners used in pricing their products, also continued to go up, climbing to an Oct. 19 average of 337.58 a barrel from 325.55 a barrel in September.

Even cooking gas was not spared from the world price excession, as its October contract price soared to $401.50 per metric ton from the last month the September price of $382 per MT.

The continuing rise in world oil prices is still being attributed to the strong demand in Europe and the United States, which added demand this past fortnight.

Speculation on further supply tightness also was driving prices up as traders sold actual lots of oil before it was priced. Alfred L. Sir
